For our ocean, From changing everyday belongings.

Earth is known as a water planet, and for us humans, the ocean is an irreplaceable presence.

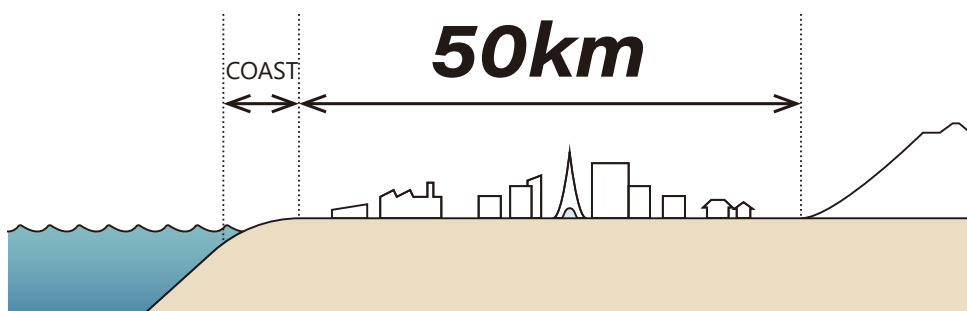

However, currently, the "ocean-bound plastic" we are producing is causing marine pollution.

For our invaluable ocean, we have created sustainable stationery and storage goods that inspire thoughts of the sea from our everyday belongings.

Ocean-bound plastic

This plastic waste is highly likely to eventually flow into the sea.

It is discarded within 50 km of the coast and is carried by rainwater, river currents, and tidal flows.

A 7-color range inspired by the ocean

Ocean Navy
Surf Blue
Sand Beige
Seaweed Green
Abyss Black
Shell White
Aqua Clear

*Please note that the color lineup may vary depending on the product.

We utilize two types of materials made from ocean-bound plastic in our products.

A part of the sales will be contributed through the international environmental NGO "Surfrider Foundation Japan" to support marine environmental conservation activities.

Surfrider Foundation Japan

The roots of Surfrider Foundation lie in the voluntary water quality monitoring efforts initiated by California surfers at surf points. The foundation was established in California in 1984. It began its activities in Japan in 1993 and became a nonprofit organization in 2011. Presently, it operates in 23 countries worldwide, with around 250,000 members, making it an international environmental NGO.

We support new work styles that are suited for the times ahead.

#Non-Territorial Office
#Workation
#OutdoorWorking

New work styles that are not bound by time or location are gaining attention. By working and relaxing in a different environment, new ideas might emerge. By using sustainable materials, we support the diversifying work styles with new work essentials.
